ABOUT INVESTMENT BULLION

If you buy Gold, Silver, Platinum or Palladium for the Precious Metal content, you're probably buying bullion. While the Troy ounce size is most common, investors can also find pieces large as 1 kilogram

Composition of Investment Bullion

Every investment bullion product is marked with its content and purity.

Troy oz: The standard of measurement for Precious Metal bullion, 1 Troy oz equals 31.1035 grams.

Fine: Refers to the purity of the Precious Metal. A coin or bar that's .999 fine will be 99.9% Precious Metal. One that's .9999 fine will be 99.99% Precious Metal.

The weight that's stamped on a product is the actual Precious Metal content. So, a 1 oz product may weigh slightly more than 1 oz, the extra weight being the other metals used to harden pure gold.

Pricing Investment Bullion

On most pages of the iGold website, you'll find sales price for the featured Precious Metal. Sales prices are determined by global paper market prices.

Spot prices change many times in a day and iGold updates them every minutes. Noone can buy Precious Metals at the actual spot price since this is the paper price. The actual purchase price for physical gold and silver includes the...

Premium: An additional cost above spot to cover manufacturing, distribution and marketing costs.

So when you're on the iGold website and you see our products are priced 6.25%-10% over spot per coin, this means that our coins are priced at the spot price for the actual weight of the coin, plus a premium of 10%.
